

LOWDEN REPLIES TO BORAH'S LETTER

Governor Gives His Position on League of Nations and Peace Treaty

FAVORS ADOPTION WITH RESERVATIONS

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—"While the league of nations, even as modified by the reservations adopted does not take the form which I believe it should judicial rather than political, I think it is the part of wisdom now to ratify it with such reservations as adopted by the senate," said Governor Frank O. Lowden in a letter today, replying to United States Senator W. E. Borah of Idaho, who had requested his position on the league.

Governor Lowden's letter said: "When the armistice was signed, I felt the time was opportune for taking up the subject of international relations, where the second, The Hague conference had left off. It seemed to me that the world was ready to adopt the high American ideals of international friendship there expressed. A permanent arbitral court to adjust all justiciable differences, a court of arbitration to which the nations might submit their vital differences the machinery for mediation and for commissions of inquiry in all other cases, and a start toward modification of international law will be welcomed. I thought it was not so much a political international structure I had in mind as it was a judicial structure. Later, and on April 25, 1919, in a speech I made before the sixth national foreign trade convention at Chicago, among other things I said:

"We want friends everywhere, but we are not looking for partnership with any other nation. We want our flag going into every port on terms of amity with every nation, but not internationalism, which is a partnership with all nations, must still be our dominant note."

"America, too, has done more to develop the art of arbitration and of close international relations than any other country."

"The Hague conference made great progress and we would be recreant if we failed to take advantage of this opportunity to extend the work of those conferences toward a more definite and a larger international law and a better international understanding."

"Our people are not for transferring the sovereignty of America from Washington to any other place; we are also going to cling to our Monroe doctrine and we are going to keep our flag floating above the capitol."

"To a great many people there seems to be a new flag coming out of the sky—a flag so remote that it hardly can be seen. To some it seems the white flag of peace; to others it seems the red flag of carnage and anarchy. Which ever it may be it is not going to take the place in America of that flag under which we have made all our progress."

"The league of nations as submitted to the senate seemed to me to be subject to grave objections. These objections in the main, I think, have been removed by the reservations adopted. The instrument as so modified as I understand it, does not bind the United States to participate in the racial and dynastic battles of the old world, nor does it involve, entangling alliances or partnerships with foreign powers, nor does it authorize interference by foreign powers in American affairs."

"I do not believe the time has come when we should abandon the policy of no entangling alliances. It may be that America again will deem it her duty to participate in some foreign war as she participated in the last, but I think she can be depended upon when that time comes, to decide for herself where her duty lies, as she has done before. While the league of nations, even as modified by the reservations does not take the form which I believed it should judicial rather than political, I think it is the part of wisdom now to ratify it with such reservations. Our sovereignty is safe guarded, the Monroe Doctrine is secure, the constitutional powers of congress are not impaired, and our right of withdrawal is clear and implied. I do not see how permanent harm can come from it. I do see the possibility of great good. It at least provides a common meeting place, at stated intervals, for the nations of the world which are parties to it. This is a decided gain. The mere fact that great nations meet in friendly council would in itself cause any nation outside the league, which was mediating a crime against civilization to pause and reflect upon the consequences. Then, too, we have the opportunity at a common table and discuss differences, those differences are likely to disappear. For more than half a century the United States has been the distinctive champion of the principle of settling international differences without resort to arms. She cannot afford now to neglect any means which give any promise of peace."

"In a petition filed today on Morrison's behalf he asserts he is no longer a spendthrift and has not been one for more than a year. He now receives an allowance of $75 a week."

RADICALS OPPOSE MINERS' ACTION

Declare Chiefs Should Have Gone to Jail Rather Than Surrender to the Settlement.

COULMBES, O., Jan. 4.—The expected opposition from radicals in the United Mine Workers organization to action of the international officers in accepting President Wilson's proposal for settlement of the miners' strike developed today, shortly after the report of the settlement had been read to the convention by William Green, international secretary.

A motion by Philip Murray, president of the Pennsylvania miners to affirm action of the officers and endorse the policy in their report was followed by attempts of the radicals to reject the motion and to condemn the officers for having accepted the proposal some delegates said they had been instructed by their unions to demand resignation of the officers.

Several declared the officers should "have gone to jail" rather than surrender to the settlement. In the report acting President Lewis and Green declared there was no alternative and that they had simply decided to submit to the inevitable, while protesting in their hearts against what was believed to be the unjust attitude of our government.

To have done otherwise would have meant revolt against the government the report said.

Delegates questioned Lewis as to whether the fourteen per cent advance was final and what effect ratification of the officers' action might have on the settlement. Lewis declared that he believed the commission of three appointed by the president to be above reproach.

"I think we can prove to the commission that we are entitled to a further increase," he said, "and if we prove it I believe we will get it."

He explained that the decision of the commission would be made the basis for the wage contract and would supercede and absorb the fourteen per cent advance. Complaints from many districts he explained would be considered.

John P. White, miners' representative on the president's commission was present at the opening of the convention today. When recess was taken tonight until 9 a. m. tomorrow the motion of Mr. Murray was still under discussion. Lewis refused to recognize motions to table the resolution declaring he wanted to give every delegate a chance to talk.

D. L. Weiner, of Illinois, was the first of the radicals to oppose endorsement of the settlement. He declared the officers "should have gone to jail like Gene Debs and sincere Americans."

A delegate from Indiana said he believed the organization had lost the right to strike because of the application of the Lever act.

GALLI-CURCI GRANTED DIVORCE

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Mme. Amelita M. Galli-Curci, noted soprano of the Chicago Grand Opera Company, today won a divorce from Luigi C. Curci after a short hearing before Judge McDonald in superior court. The proceedings were brought to an early close when Curci in a statement filed, withdrew his answer to the suit. The answer had accused her of infidelity and named Homer Samuels, her accompanist, as correspondent.

Judge McDonald indicated that the decree would be granted on the grounds of infidelity.

Curci's formal statement says charges made in his answer were based on a misapprehension of fact and action that he "profoundly regrets."

He denied charges in his wife's bill that he had been guilty of misconduct with Melissa Brown of Fleischmanns, N. Y., and other women. Galli-Curci testified that she met Curci, a painter, in Italy in 1906 and they were married in 1908. They separated in 1918.

WOODWARD WILL HEAD CONVENTION

Chosen by Republicans to Head Constitutional Body
Which Convenes Today

DEMOCRATS HAVE ONLY 17 DELEGATES

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 5.—Charles E. Woodward, of Ottawa, Illinois, was selected tonight at a meeting of Republican delegates to the Illinois constitutional convention which will convene here at noon tomorrow. Eighty of the eighty-five Republican delegates to the convention attended the meeting. The Democrats have only seventeen delegates in the convention.

Woodward was elected on the twelfth ballot when supporters of Edward C. Curtis of Grant Park, and William E. Trautman of East St. Louis, the two leading contenders on the first ballots, turned their votes to him.

After a stormy opening resulting from the opposition of a number of delegates to a formal caucus harmony developed at the meeting. The attempt to hold a caucus brought unfavorable comment from many members and a motion by Thomas Rinaker, delegate from Carlinville that the meeting proceed as a conference of Republican members rather than as a caucus was carried.

Objections to a caucus were made on the ground that partisanship should not be allowed to control the actions of the delegates. Justus Johnson, secretary of the Republican state committee who issued a call for a Republican caucus following receipt of letters from forty-eight Republican delegates called the meeting to order.

M. A. Michaelson, a Chicago delegate questioned Johnson's authority to call a caucus. Michaelson's contention was supported by other delegates but his retirement in favor of Cicero J. Lindley of Greenville, who was elected as permanent chairman of the meeting restored harmony.

Those nominated for the office of president of the convention besides Woodward, Curtis and Trautman, were Eugene H. Dupue of Chicago, George C. Gale of Galesburg, Joseph Fifer of Bloomington and Thomas Rinaker of Carlinville.

Trautman received twenty votes on the first ballot, Curtis seventeen; Fifer, fifteen; Woodward, eight; Gale, eight; Dupue, six and Rinaker, four.

On the eleventh ballot, Woodward was given 37 votes, while Curtis and Trautman each received 14. On the final ballot the vote stood, Woodward, 51, Trautman, 12, Fifer, 12, Curtis, 2, Dupue, 1, Charles S. Cutting, Chicago, 1, and P. G. Baldwin, Chicago, 1.

The conference took no further action than the election of the candidate for president of the convention.

Bert M. McCann of Bloomington will probably be named clerk of the convention at the opening session tomorrow.

While he strongly condemned the German soldiers for their conduct during the war, Marshal Joffre stated he admired their bravery.

WILSON WILL SEND AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE

Contents Arouse Interest Among
Democrats Who Will Attend
Jackson Day Banquet Thursday Night.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Announcement from the white house that President Wilson plans to send "an important word of greeting" to the Democratic dinner here Jackson Day, January 8, aroused interest among Democratic leaders arriving today by strong legal talent and "slush fund" to oppose deportation and the immigration service inadequately supplied either with the men or the means, help of congress was considered absolutely necessary by officers.

Anthony Caminetti, commissioner general of immigration, today appealed to the house appropriations committee for funds to allow expansion of his force. He asked for at least ten more lawyers. Department of justice officials have promised assistance but the need for a greater legal staff was keenly felt, he said. Officials also explained that the work of perfecting cases against the radicals would be slow because of the few immigration inspectors. Added to this was the fact that the radio actuary had been instructed to make use of every form of legal delay.

Thompson of prison facilities engaged the attention of officials as Ellis Island, where hitherto all persons held for deportation were kept, is overcrowded. Secretary Baker announced he had instructed Major General Bullard to provide a detention camp for the use of the department of justice. He understood this would be Camp Upton because of its closeness to New York. Officials were inclined to believe a second camp might also be necessary. If another is chosen it will be in the middle west, it was stated.

In view of the department's plans to continue the arrests, agents in border districts were instructed to guard closely against attempts of the radicals to escape into either Mexico or Canada. More arrests are planned in Chicago, New York, Detroit and Boston and several smaller cities in the east.

MIDWEST G. O. P. WOMEN CONFER

Demand Equal Representation
With Men on Party's
National Committee

HEAR SPEECH BY WILL H. HAYS

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Republican women from fourteen midwest states, conferring today on party plans and issues for the 1920 presidential campaign, demand equal representation with men on the party's national committee and urged a fair representation of women delegates from each state in the national convention.

Many women professed to see an immediate endorsement of their attitude in the speech of Will H. Hays, chairman of the national committee at a banquet.

"The Republican party offers the women everything we offer the men," he said. "Republican women come into the party not as women but as voters, entitled to participate as other voters. They are not to be separated or segregated but assimilated and amalgamated."

The women proposed in a resolution that the national convention act to double the membership of the national committee so that "each state be represented by one man and one woman member."

They urged that this become "the policy of the party in all party committees, both state and local."

The women adopted ten suggested planks for the Republican platform. These included recommendations for direct citizenship for women, not by marriage, and laws making possible naturalization of married women.

They also favored "national and state legislation for regulation and abolition of child labor." Another section asked states and the nation to establish the 8-hour day and 44-hour week for women with provision for a day of rest each week. Establishment of the woman's bureau of the department of labor, a national employment service with adequate provision for departments for women and equal opportunities for women thru civil service were also sponsored.

Other planks were: "A new policy by the federal board of vocational education to issue for women equal opportunities with men in trade and technical education." "Appointment of women mediators on all federal labor boards to deal with industries employing women."

Compulsory education in all states for children between 6 and 16 years old with provision for thorough education in citizenship.

The women's stand was reflected in short talks several leaders made at the banquet. The affair was given by the state central committee in honor of Chairman Hays and the chairman of the women's division of the national committee, Mrs. John Glover South. There were two speakers followed by Mrs. C. A. Severance of Minnesota, Mrs. Margaret Carter of Kansas; Miss Mary Garrett Hays of New York, chairman of the women's national executive committee, Mrs. Josephine Corlies, Preston, state superintendent of public instruction in Washington, candidates for the Republican presidential nomination—Governor Lowden of Illinois and Major Leonard Wood.

The banquet had a toastmaster, Frank L. Smith, of New York. The toastmaster introduced the men and Mrs. Fletcher Doherty, chairman of the party's organization for the women of the state, acted for women speakers. There was also a meeting today of the committee in charge of arrangements for the national convention.

A dozen state committees attended the convention arrangement session. Tonight they were guests of Fred Upham of Chicago, formerly treasurer of the national committee.

Chairman Hays left for Des Moines to attend tomorrow a meeting of Iowa Republicans. Thence he goes to Denver and San Francisco for regional conferences.

Two of the unofficial visitors today were Frank L. Hitchcock, postmaster general in the Roosevelt cabinet and Frank B. Willis, former governor of Ohio.

Chairman Hays responding to a suggestion of one of the speakers that the Republican platform should be written so "that it could be printed on a card and carried in the hat," listed the following suggestions as a platform aim:

"To take our proper place in this struggle, we must first have law and order among our labor, to our public life. Solution of the problems presented by trouble between labor and capital should be hastened by introduction of the human element."

OPPOSE DEMURRER IN NEWBERRY CASE

Argument of Defense Characterized by Special Assistant Attorney General Dailey.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 5.—Characterizing the argument of the defense in support of the demurrer to the indictments in the election of Senator Truman H. Newberry as an effort to create a twilight zone between the jurisdiction of the state and the nation in which corrupters of the election laws may take refuge, special assistant Attorney General Frank C. Dailey opposed the demurrer in the federal district court this afternoon. The chief issue raised by the defense strikes at the constitutionality of the general election law of the United States and questions the jurisdiction of congress to regulate or control elections of senators and congressmen and especially primary elections in the state. Attorney Dailey in replying to Attorney Littleton's contentions said that not only is the general election law constitutional but congress has authority to regulate devices for the nomination of candidates in the various states. Among other things he cited the fact that the United States supreme court had held that the law permitting congress to make certain rules for the regulation of voters, demonstrated that the government had the authority to go behind the states in the election process without infringement upon sovereign rights of the state. In discussing the claim of the defense that the sixth count in the indictment, which claims a conspiracy to violate the postal fraud law, sought to give the postoffice department and department of justice authority which congress itself did not enjoy, Mr. Dailey took the position that if the rule did not apply in this case, the law might as well be stricken from the statute books. He said it was designed to cover all frauds in which the United States mails are used and if a fraud was committed in the nomination and election of Newberry it fell clearly under the meaning of the statute. He said it was of no importance what the nature of the conspiracy might be, so long as the mails were used in its furtherance.

Judge H. C. Eichen who is assisting Mr. Dailey, closed the arguments for the government. He took up briefly certain technical objections to the sufficiency of the indictment and pointed out to the court what are the government's reasons for the assertion that the indictments are sufficient.

GENERAL PERSHING INSPECTS CAMP GRANT

Spends Busy Day at Rockford
Cantonment—Cheered by 10,000
School Children.

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 5.—General John J. Pershing reached Rockford at an early hour this morning and after breakfasting in his private car in the Illinois Central yards was met by Major General George Bell, Jr., and his staff and escorted to Camp Grant where he reviewed the 10th Cavalry division on the parade ground in front of the Liberty Theater.

General Pershing stopped to speak to several soldiers who had served under him in France and to a number whose gold stripes showed they had been wounded.

The tour of the cantonment which followed the inspection was completed at 11:30 a. m. and General Pershing took tea at the hostess house Camp Grant with a company of fifty officers and their ladies. He became the guest of the city of Rockford at a luncheon served at the Nelson Hotel at 1:30 o'clock in charge of C. S. Brantingham and a committee of two hundred leading citizens. Following an introduction by Mayor Robert Row he made a brief address and was escorted with a silver mounted saddle and bridled made here in the largest factory devoted to horse goods in the world.

At 4 p. m. General Pershing reviewed a parade of military patriotic and fraternal organizations from a stand in front of Memorial Hall, a massed body of 10,000 school children cheering as he passed them on his way to the stand. He made a short talk at Memorial Hall to gold star mothers and fathers and members of the white and colored branches of the American Legion and was then escorted to the Shrine Temple for a public reception which was largely attended and where he again made a short speech. Crowds lined the streets in spite of the cold wind prevailing and gave enthusiastic greeting to the national hero.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS DRY LAW

Constitutionality of Volstead
Prohibition Enforcement
Act Sustained by 5-4 Vote

LAST HOPE OF WETS SWEEP ASIDE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—By a margin of one vote the supreme court today upheld the right of congress to define intoxicating liquors as applied to war time prohibition. In a five to four opinion rendered by Associate Justice Brandeis the court sustained the constitutionality of provisions in the Volstead prohibition enforcement act prohibiting manufacture and sale of beverages containing one-half per cent or more of alcohol. Associate Justices Day, VanDevanter, McReynolds and Clarke dissented.

Validity of the federal prohibition constitutional amendment and of portions of the Volstead act affecting its enforcement was not involved, but the opinion was regarded as so sweeping as to leave little hope among "wets."

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League of America hailed it as a "sweeping victory" and in a statement said the only prohibition question left open is whether the eighteenth amendment is such that it can be considered as a federal amendment and whether it was properly adopted.

The court sustained federal court decrees dismissing injunction proceedings to enjoin federal authorities from preventing importation of New York brewer from manufacturing beer containing in excess of one-half per cent alcohol but which he alleged was non-intoxicant.

"Wets" however, received a brief ray of hope when shortly afterward, Associate Justice Day in an unanimous opinion, sustained the dismissal of indictments brought under the war time prohibition act against the Standard Brewery of Baltimore and the American Brewing Company of New Orleans for manufacturing 2.75 per cent beer before the Volstead act was passed. The court held congress has the right to determine what is intoxicating beverages but that, as the Volstead act had not yet been passed manufacture of low alcoholic beer was permissible under war time prohibition providing it was not intoxicating.

Assistant Attorney General Trierson in charge of the prohibition cases in the supreme court, announced that the department of justice was ready to begin prosecution of all persons who have sold beer since the passage Oct. 28 of the Volstead act. Prosecutions, he said, would begin at once.

The opinion of Justice Brandeis who also rendered the December 15 decision upholding the constitutionality of the war time prohibition act set forth that "implied war power over intoxicating liquors extends to the enactment of laws which will not merely prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors but will effectually prevent their sale."

"Whether it be for national defense," he said, "or for establishing post office and post roads or for regulating commerce among the several states, congress has the power to make all laws necessary and proper for carrying into execution the duty so imposed in the federal government."

Justice Brandeis also declared that the war powers of congress possess virtually the same authority as that held by the states under police powers. A dissenting opinion concurred in by the other three associate justices was rendered by Justice McReynolds who took exception to the majority's views on the scope of the war powers. The minority declared he constitution should be interpreted so that the part should suffer en masse by the part, by which the public's rights might be jeopardized.

Briefs were filed today by the government and New Jersey authorities in connection with the suits to show cause why original proceedings involving the validity of the eighteenth amendment and provisions of the Volstead act affecting its enforcement should not be brought by Rhode Island and on behalf of the Retail Liquor Dealers' association of New Jersey. A brief in support of the New Jersey case was also presented and arguments were made.

The employees in one large automobile manufacturing plant have had definite evidence of the unfortunate losses that come from strikes. This plant is on a profit sharing basis and the employees have just been notified that there are no profits to share this January, because of the heavy costs of operation occasioned by the strike period.

THE BIG PLANS OF THE RED CROSS.

That the work of the Red Cross in America is not to be overlooked even though there are such demands abroad, is shown by the figures recently published. Thirty million dollars will be available for the work this year and practically 50 per cent of the entire amount will be expended for the peace time program in America.

Enough funds will be kept readily available for relief from disaster and the organization will meet its full obligation to soldiers, sailors and their families.

Gov. Henry Allen of Kansas has eliminated himself from the field of presidential possibilities by the definite statement that he is not a candidate. Mr. Allen declares that he will succeed himself as governor of Kansas, that he feels that he there some unfinished and worth while work. His record as chief executive of the state has been of a kind to bring commendation and it is likely that he will have little or no opposition in securing the nomination.

One reason for the present shortage in school teachers is shown in statistics compiled about 500 girl graduates of Chicago high schools. In other years the records show that a large percentage of these young women turned to the occupation of teacher. For the last year or two the records differ materially and less than half have taken up teaching work, while almost as many have turned to business occupations because of the higher earnings possible.

COOLIDGE AN AVOWED CANDIDATE.

The fact that James B. Reynolds, who has served as secretary of the Republican national committee, has resigned to manage the presidential campaign of Gov. Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, indicates that there will be a definite effort to nominate the eastern state executive. The governor's action in the Boston police strike was the best bit of political advertising that he has had. His loyalty and courage as shown in that instance gave him practically his first prominence outside the boundaries of his home state.

BERGER'S THREAT.

Victor Berger, Socialist, again elected to congress doesn't indicate what are his expectations about being granted a seat in that body. He does declare that if he is again refused admission that he will be elected governor of Wisconsin and then subsequently go to the U. S. senate. This statement must be by way of a threat so that congress will take the view it will be better to have him in the less influential position. It is very hard to believe that the whole state of Wisconsin will take the view of Berger's loyalty that his own district did. Milwaukee sentiment probably does not represent that in the whole state.

MR. WOODWARD IS WELL QUALIFIED.

The Republican delegate to the constitutional convention in caucus last night selected Charles E. Woodward as nominee for president. Mr. Woodward has not been as frequently mentioned as some other men for this position but he is in every way qualified for his responsibilities. Mr. Woodward, whose home is at Ottawa, wrote the Illinois administrative code bill which has brought such an improvement in the handling of the state's business. He is a lawyer of ability and especially well versed in the needs of the state. Those well acquainted with him are aware of his vision and wisdom.

WHEN DOCTORS DISAGREE.

There don't seem to be a complete agreement in the official family at Washington about the question of lower living costs. Attorney General Palmer has given his opinion that within a few months there will be decided decreases. Now comes Royal Meeker, who is commissioner of labor statistics, and says that no very decided drop can be expected for several years.

Mr. Meeker says further that while people think of the sufferings and inconvenience that high prices have caused in the last six years, that very few stop to consider that if the descent of prices were to be rapid that the sufferings and privations would be even more acute. There is some sound reasoning in the deductions that this statistician draws to the effect that if real benefits are to come to the public the descent to normal price levels must be gradual.

ENGLISH EXTRAVAGANCE.

In commenting on the extravagant methods of Americans today it is just as well to remember that there is no corner on extravagance here. We are in the habit of thinking of people in England as always provident and careful, whereas reports from the little island show that there is an era of spending there.

"Rushing prosperity is not always a sign of sound conditions. In England, according to Herbert N. Casson, writing from London to the Boston News Bureau, they are having what he calls a fool's paradise of extravagance. He says: "Britain is prosperous beyond the dreams of idealists. There are no poor, except the unprivileged professional class—the New Poor—who hide their poverty behind their pride. In the great cities, in the factory towns, in every farming community, prosperity is roaring along like a Barmy & Bailey procession. The luxury stores are packed with buyers. More than 16,000 women stormed Selfridge's in a single morning of last week. Fully 300,000 people have ordered automobiles and paid $250 deposits. Tiny factories, whose present output is four cars per week, have taken orders for 10,000, 20,000, 25,000. Nearly all the industrial companies are capitalizing war values. They are accepting the rise in prices as a real advance in wealth. They are fooling themselves with the fictitious totals of the war period. They are not using their war profits to write down their assets, but to spend and to invest elsewhere."

William Hogan of Chapin left yesterday afternoon for Hot Springs, Ark. The trip is for his health and he expects to be gone at least two months.

They are writing everything up—up—up.

Undoubtedly this is a record of only a part of England's population. The same state of things exist in this country in certain classes. There is there, as here, a large body of people who realize the fictitious basis on which the world is floating—who know that deflation must come, and with it falling values and cramping losses."

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

Good Riddance.

Of anarchists we're weary, of all the kindred freaks, of agitators boery who jar us with shrieks and so we've started shipping the lot across the sea, and they may do their yipping, in Russia, which is free. They didn't like our banner or eagle, worth a cent, and in unseemly manner they voiced their discontent. They said that tyrants rule us, we're trampled by the strong, the plutes and robbers fool us, and everything is wrong. They pitied us for working, they shuddered at our fate, and thought some timely dirking and bombing would be great. And now they have departed for Russia's shining shore, where patriots true-hearted may shed each other's gore, where man takes recreation with weapons in his paws, and prompt assassination is sure of great applause. I hope they'll all be joyous on Russia's happy strand, and never annoy us or see this darkened land. They'll have the kind of freedom that's bound to hit the spot, for friends will shoot and bleed 'em and burn them when they're shot. So let's keep on dispatching the reds to Russia's shore; they've itched us long and scratching has grown to be a bore.

Don't let your car freeze up. I have a mixture of alcohol and glycerine at $1.50 a gallon. This is cheaper for the user than straight alcohol.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Mrs. J. I. Barrows of this city recently received a letter from Mrs. Post, wife of former pastor of the Congregational church in this city, stating that the writer was sitting in an automobile in the streets of San Francisco, Cal., during the great parade of returned soldiers, feeling like a stranger in a strange land, when to her surprise a man in khaki stepped up and introduced himself, explaining that he had known her and her husband in Jacksonville. A very pleasant interview followed. Unfortunately she lost the card the gentleman gave her and was unable to tell who it was but the incident was very pleasant.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

IN GILLESPIE SUNDAY That was a very large gathering of Knights of Columbus at Gillespie Sunday, when a new lodge was instituted. Carlinville, Alton and Litchfield were largely represented and as already mentioned, the third degree work was put on by Deputy John J. Ferry and staff of Jacksonville. Mass was celebrated at 10:30 a. m. by Rev. Father Crosson. In the evening a banquet was given at the Colonial Annex. Among those who made addresses were Congressman James H. Graham, Springfield, and Dr. Emmett Kane of St. Louis.

William Hogan of Chapin left yesterday afternoon for Hot Springs, Ark. The trip is for his health and he expects to be gone at least two months.

LOYD WARFIELD BROWN
MARRIES BEMENT GIRL

Marriage of Former Jacksonville Man to Miss Mary Gordon Burr Occurs at Bement New Year's Night.

Cards were received in Jacksonville yesterday announcing the marriage of Miss Mary Gordon Burr, daughter of Mrs. A. Shelton Burr, of Bement, Ill., to Lloyd Warfield Brown of Decatur, which occurred at the home of the home of the bride's mother in Bement New Year's night, the Rev. Dr. Beatty, pastor of the Decatur Episcopal church, officiating. The ceremony was attended by only a few intimate relatives owing to recent deaths in the bride's family.

Mr. Brown is the youngest son of Mrs. Frances E. Brown of this city and is well and favorably known in Jacksonville where he was reared and received his education. Graduating from Whipple, he entered the University of Illinois and graduated from the state school in 1915. Going to the University of Chicago he attended an ordnance school which later fitted him for commissioned honors in this branch of the army. He served as a second lieutenant of ordnance in Texas, at Camp Upton, New York, and later at a camp in Alabama. He was in the service for over two years.

Following his honorable discharge from the army Mr. Brown again took up life in the commercial field and is at the present time the owner of the Central Illinois Electric company with headquarters at Decatur. Mr. and Mrs. Brown left Bement soon after the ceremony for a honeymoon trip in the south, intending to spend the greater part of January in New Orleans. They will be at home to their friends on West Prairie street, Decatur, after February 1.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Barr Brown and Mrs. Frances E. Brown of this city attended the wedding.

NEW YORK AMERICANS PURCHASE "BABE" RUTH

New York, Jan. 5.—The purchase of "Babe" Ruth, of the Boston Americans by the New York American League Club was announced tonight by Col. Jacob Ruppert, president of the New York Club. He refused to state the price.

Colonel Ruppert said Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees is now in Los Angeles, California, negotiating with Ruth.

Ruth has a three year contract with the Boston Club made last season, calling for a salary of $10,000 a year. He is reported, however, to have declared recently that unless this was boosted to $20,000, he would not return to Boston.

The famous home run hitter demanded this increase on the strength of his last season's batting record, when he broke all previous major league records by hitting 29 home runs. In refusing to name the price paid, Ruppert admitted he understood an offer of $100,000 for Ruth was refused last summer by Harry Frazee of the Boston Club. Ruth, who is 26 years old, joined the Red Sox in 1915 as a pitcher and was used as a pinch hitter. Last season he was transferred to outfield duty where he batted .322.

General Wood said that suppression of radicalism in this country must be brought about at once.

"We want to build up an intense national spirit," he said, "and avoid loose fitting internationalism as we would avoid death. Danger is not altogether due to the reds. Fully 95 per cent of our labor wants to run square, but goes wrong because of bad leadership."

Governor Lowden pointed out a number of ways in which he said women could aid in bringing about a more healthy industrial condition.

"Thoughtful men and women," he said, "are going to watch the census now being taken for the figures that will develop the number of homes owned by the workmen. In our fight against Bolshevism there is no argument so potent as this home owners."

The governor said that women coming into politics had the power to influence their husbands toward taking rightful interest in political duties.

"We have no business so important as the public business," he said, "and we alone can discharge it."

"In addition if the treaty be ratified and America become a part of the league of nations, she will have an opportunity to so influence its activities and so help to modify its form that it may in time realize the noble aspirations for world peace of the great men who participated in the Hague conference."

"If it should fail to accomplish these results or operate to the disadvantages of America, the way is clear by which we can withdraw."

"I therefore hope that the treaty may be ratified promptly with the reservations, in substance already adopted by the senate."

WATER DOES DAMAGE IN MYERS BROS. STORE

About 10 o'clock Monday night Ferdinand Muse while firing the heating plant in the Myers Brothers building discovered water running into the basement.

He notified Louis Duetsch and Henry Frisch also was called. The water entered the store room on the east side near where the mat stock is kept. Fortunately but little damage was done in the store, tho Mr. Frisch said it looked as tho there might be some damage to goods stored in the basement.

A plumber was called and shut off the water. While the source of the leak was not discovered last night Mr. Frisch thinks it may come from a frozen pipe in the old brick building on the east side as there has been no heat there during the winter.

BOARD OF EDUCATION IN REGULAR MEETING

Transact Routine Business and Discuss Matters of Importance to Schools of City.

The board of education met last evening and transacted ordinary business and spent much time discussing matters which could not be settled at the time. The report of the boiler inspector was announced to be favorable. The report of C. B. McCormick, chosen to revalue school buildings, was rendered; increased insurance of $25,000 had been taken in accordance with the report of Mr. McCormick; resignation of Miss Alice Gunn was announced; various communications to the board were read and acted on when suitable; the superintendent reported still much trouble in heating the David Prince building; the new traps have been installed; the pipes and radiators are still much filled with water. The superintendent presented a report of salaries paid in other places.

The Proceedings.
The board met in regular session with Members Black, Duncan, Metcalf, Muehlhausen, Hopper and Pierson present; President Lippincott in the chair; early in the meeting Member Black was summoned by an emergency call.

As the chairman, Member Rogers, of the finance committee was absent, all bills and payroll were referred to the finance committee to examine them and pay if found correct.

Member Hopper for the buildings and grounds committee reported a visit of the boiler inspector who had gone over the various plants and found them in good shape.

The work of C. B. McCormick of St. Louis, chosen to go over the various ward buildings and make new estimates of their value had been done and in accordance with the same an additional $25,000 insurance had been taken out. The gentleman also requested four 8 by 10 photographs of each building to be attached to the valuation report which would be useful in making an adjustment. Ordered. Fred Baldwin was now serving at the Washington school building in place of Charles Redding, janitor.

It was the expressed desire that the successful contractor or bidder for the proposed new high school building should patronize a Jacksonville agent when he secured his bond.

The annual assessment for street paving high school and open air school, $210 was reported paid.

The resignation of Miss Alice Gunn, teacher in the David Prince school was received but not with the stereotyped vote of regret but of congratulations and wishes for a happy married life.

The secretary and superintendent were instructed to get together and preserve all documents and photographs pertaining to the work of revaluation.

A letter from Mr. Royer regarding some changes in the specifications for the new high school building was read.

A letter from A. B. Leach and Co., regarding the printing of the proposed bonds was read. They hoped to have the work done by the 15th but couldn't say definitely. Also enclosed a copy of suggested advertisement for local papers.

A letter from Miss Evelyn M. Graham, secretary of the Freeport board of education asking for information regarding Mr. Royer was ordered answered as far as possible.

The superintendent reported a great deal of trouble yet with water in the pipes of the David Prince building and inability to get the rooms properly heated till late in the day. They had hoped the traps recently put in would do the work but they had failed badly. He was instructed to summon the plumber forthwith the next time such trouble was had.

The lights in the Washington building had not yet all been put in but as far as the work had progressed it was satisfactory.

The superintendent called attention to a carefully and laboriously prepared table showing salaries paid teachers in fifteen Illinois cities beginning with Quincy, the largest and on down to Pekin, the smallest. The table or exhibit was very large and complicated and its publication was hardly deemed advisable. A long informal discussion on the matter of salaries of teachers followed. It was suggested that since the contracts with the teachers were made, last May, the cost of living had greatly increased and the instructors naturally were hard pressed. Ten of the cities had voted to go under the new law or take advantage of it. The last legislature had rescinded the rate per cent from a third to a half and cities that voted to avail themselves of the right might levy for educational purposes two per cent and for building and repairs two-thirds per cent which would yield some more funds. The sentiment of the board was to do the utmost possible for the teachers tho nothing definite seemed practicable at present.

Let EATONIC, the wonderful modern stomach remedy, give you quick relief from disgusting belching, food poisoning, indigestion, bloated, gassy stomach, dyspepsia, heartburn and other stomach troubles. KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS TO PLAY BASKETBALL

Local Organization Has Organized Team And Will Play Opening Game Tonight — Marquette Team of Franklin, Opponent.

Some time ago the Knights of Columbus announced the organization of a basketball team. Since that time the men have been practicing and tonight will play the first game of the schedule in Liberty hall. The Marquette five of Franklin will be the opposing team.

The Knights of Columbus team has a number of members who were star tossers during their school days and these men have all been hard at work. Among them are Froelich, Butler, Rook, Cobb, Clancy, Cain, Foley, Flynn, Topping and Hamilton. Froelich was one of the great greatest players Rook ever turned out. He is fast, accurate in shooting baskets and a fighter every minute of the time. His followers will be glad to see him in action once more. Butler also was a star at Rount and all of the other men have had lots of basketball experience.

The Marquette five is made of experienced men, all of whom have had several years in scholastic basketball. The team has been working longer than the local team and on Saturday night played a fast game with the Spalding Institute team at Peoria. The Marquette team is coming up here to take home the bacon and will make a hard fight. However, the Knights will have a strong argument to present for the long end of the score. The game should be a battle royal with lots of action every minute of the time. Coach Harmon of Illinois College will referee.

DELEGATES TO BEGIN MAKING MORE HISTORY

Fifth Constitutional Convention Will Open in Springfield—Morgan County Men Active in Earlier Assemblages.

A great deal of interest attaches to the assembling of the Illinois constitutional convention in Springfield today. This will be the fifth convention that Illinois has held. The first was an act of congress adopted April 18, 1818. The second was in 1847, the third in 1862 and the fourth in 1869-70. All the conventions after 1818 were assembled for the purpose of altering, revising or amending the existing constitution. An attempt was made in 1824 to assemble a convention but when the question was submitted to the people it was voted down. Similar attempts in 1842 and 1846 were defeated.

It is an interesting fact that the first constitution made no mention of the Diet. This omission later caused a good deal of concern and at a later convention the preamble as prepared by Judge Samuel D. Lockwood of this county was adopted, giving due recognition to the state's obligation to the Almighty.

Morgan County Delegates. In the convention of 1848 the delegates from Morgan county to the convention were Newton Cloud, Samuel D. Lockwood, James Dunlap and William Thomas. Newton Cloud, who at that time resided in Waverly, became the president of the convention and Judge Lockwood, who was chairman of one of the most important committees, was a most influential member of the convention.

The third constitutional convention of the state met in 1862 and the delegates from Morgan county were Joseph Morton and Albert G. Burr. It is a matter of record that the constitution when submitted to a vote of the people failed of adoption.

In the convention of 1870 Morgan county was represented by Henry J. Atkins. In the convention which meets today Morgan county will be represented thru Clinton L. Conkling and James H. Paddock, both of whom are residents of Springfield.

Under the provisions for delegates to the convention of 1920 two delegates were allotted to each senatorial district. As Morgan and Sangamon constitute the 45th district and as no resident of this county became a candidate the two delegates from Sangamon county were chosen. The preamble to the constitution of 1848, as written by Judge Lockwood, and as re-adopted by the convention of 1870, is as follows:

CONSTITUTION PREAMBLE.
We, the people of the State of Illinois, grateful to Almighty God for the civil, political and religious liberty which He hath so long permitted us to enjoy, and looking to Him for a blessing upon our endeavors to secure and transmit the same unimpaired to succeeding generations—in order to form a more perfect government, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, promote the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this constitution for the State of Illinois.

GROWTH OF THE STATE.
Some idea of the growth of the state is indicated by the fact that at the time of the convention of 1818 the territory of Illinois had a population of less than 45,000 people, and the settled part of the state did not extend much farther north than Edwardsville. There were fifteen counties in the territory. St. Clair, Randolph, Madison, Monroe, Gallatin, Johnson, Edwards, White, Polk, Jackson, Crawford, Bond, Union, Washington and Franklin.

The constitution as adopted by the convention was a brief document patterned mainly after the constitution of New York, Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana. One of the most important questions even in connection with that first constitution was that of slavery. There was a good deal of difference of opinion and the provisions finally incorporated into the constitution were the result of a compromise between the opposing factions. Although slavery was not completely abolished by that first convention, Illinois was always regarded as a free state. Strong influences are at work to prevent the convention of 1920 from being directed entirely along partisan lines. The principal struggle will be between Chicago and down state. There will be 162 delegates at the convention and of this number 64 are from the down state counties including 59 Republicans and 5 Democrats.

CITY COUNCIL HELD SHORT SESSION MONDAY

Only Routine Business Transacted—Mayor and Three Aldermen Absent.

The regular session of the city council Monday evening was short and only routine business was transacted. Alderman McGinnis was elected Mayor Pro Tem in the absence of Mayor Crabtree, who with Alderman Chapin is in Chicago on city business.

When the clerk called the roll it showed Alderman Cain, Ehrie, Flynn, McGinnis and Moore present. Mayor Crabtree, Alderman Chapin, Graft and William absent.

The clerk announced the first order of business was the election of a Mayor Pro Tem. Alderman McGinnis was nominated and there being no further nominations, the clerk called the roll and declared Alderman McGinnis elected.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved as read.

Reports of Officers.
The reports of officers were then presented as follows:

Compliments Chief Hunt.
Under the reports of standing committees, Alderman Moore complimented Chief Hunt for the splendid annual report made. Alderman Moore, who is chairman of the fire committee, said that Chief Hunt wished to attend the annual convention of Illinois Fire Chiefs which will be held the coming week.

The alderman said it was customary to allow the chief to attend the convention and that it was probable the next convention would be held in this city.

Alderman Flynn seconded by Alderman Cain, moved that Chief Hunt be given permission to attend the convention. The motion carried.

Alderman Moore also reported that the sum of $200.40 had been received from the sale of walnut logs from the two cemeteries and the money had been placed in the credit of the two funds.

In the absence of Alderman Chapin, chairman of the water committee, Alderman Moore reported that all of the pumps and motors had been removed from the north end pumping station and were stored at the city building. The plant had been closed entirely and there was no expense now at that place.

No further business appearing, the council adjourned on motion of Alderman Flynn, seconded by Alderman Moore.

WILL HELP ALONG GOOD ROADS PROGRAM

Morgan County Association Making Plans—1920 is Full of Promise For Highway Betterment.

The Morgan County Good Roads Association is planning to take an active part in the good roads movement this year. Vincent Riley is chairman of the association and L. T. Potter secretary, and within a few days the official call will be made for the annual meeting of the association, to be held Thursday night, January 15, probably at the Morgan county court house.

Legislation has been so shaped during the past year that there will be more doing in the good roads movement in 1920 than has been true for a long time past. National and state legislation and a greater understanding of the benefit and meaning of good roads are responsible for this condition.

The building program for the state of Illinois under the direction of highways as recently announced, shows that many miles of hard roads will be constructed in this state in 1920, and a very substantial beginning of Illinois' big road improvement plans will be made before the year closes.

Must Get County's Share.

Because of all this activity and to be certain that Morgan county gets its full share of the road betterments and keeps in touch with the state and federal aid movements, there is the need for greater activity on the part of the association than ever before. Mention was made some time ago of the change of name of the Burlington Way to the Mississippi Valley highway. This action was taken by officers connected with the route after a period of investigation which proved that such a change would be highly beneficial. The Mississippi Valley Association is a great commercial organization maintaining offices in Chicago and with ample capital it advertises all over the world the products of the Mississippi Valley.

By changing the name of the Burlington route to the Mississippi Valley highway and having it come under the care of this commercial association, definite assurance of support was given. The general route of the highway now is from a point about 200 miles north of Duluth down to New Orleans. There will be one long highway as straight as possible, connecting the principal cities and without branches. The men high up in the organization have the information that such a route can become the main federal highway thru the Mississippi Valley. As such it will have federal support in the first building of hard roads and afterward it will be maintained by the federal government.

Morgan county is not asked for a large sum toward the maintenance of this Mississippi Valley highway, but is expected to pay approximately $25 a year and for a period of five years as it will take at least that long for the big project to be completed. The money will be used in a new marking of the highway and in temporary improvements.

Some Good Advertising.

It is fortunate that this city was made a division point and that H. K. Chenoweth was elected secretary of the association. Because the division extends from Jacksonville north to Burlington and south to St. Louis, there will be large sign boards every ten miles for the entire distance between St. Louis and Burlington indicating the number of miles to Jacksonville. This in itself will be a very valuable piece of advertising for the city of Jacksonville.

Mr. Riley as president of the Morgan County Association and others active in the association, believe thoroughly in the bigness of this Mississippi Valley Highway proposal. However, they believe that just as much attention should be given by Morgan county to the Pike's Peak Ocean to Ocean Highway which runs east and west thru the city. The officers of this great trans-continental route also asks for a certain amount of local support, and the Morgan County Association will co-operate with them just as actively as in the case of the Mississippi Valley Association.

The Value of Roads.
This city has just had the biggest Christmas business ever recorded. The same thing has been true of the various towns in the county. This is due partially to the general prosperity of the times, but in the main to the fact that road conditions have been favorable for business. That condition gives the index to what the good roads movement means. Mr. Riley and other officers of the Morgan County Association continually point to the fact that this is not a Jacksonville affair, but an all county affair, and that in the promoting of good roads, all communities will have some share in the benefits. Some people may think that the good road movement is an old subject but they are going to find that the big things are just beginning and during 1920 the people are going to come into a thorough realization of good roads benefits.
